

ATHLETIC PARENT/GUARDIAN CODE OF CONDUCT
Superintendent's Regulation # 123-R

(Effective April 7, 2015)

Susquenita School District's philosophy of educating the whole child applies to athletics and sports as well as to academic life. When students participate in club sports, intramurals, fitness activities or varsity teams, they do so as a part of their total educational experience—building skills of commitment, sportsmanship, leadership and teamwork. Interscholastic athletics at Susquenita offer proof that athletic and academic success can thrive together in a supportive environment. As your children become involved in the athletic programs at Susquenita, they will experience some of the most rewarding moments of their lives. However, athletic achievement at Susquenita requires sincere commitment from all athletes, parents, coaches, and administrators. For all of us to be successful, effective communication must occur; therefore, it is necessary that everyone understand the focus and direction of the program.

PARENT/COACH RELATIONSHIP

Both parenting and coaching are challenging vocations. By establishing an understanding of each position, we are better able to accept the actions of the other and provide greater benefits to the student-athletes. As parents, when your child becomes involved in our program, you have a right to understand the expectations that are placed on your child. This begins with clear communication from the coach of your child's team.

Communication you should expect from your child's coach:

1. When and where practices and contests are held.
2. His/her coaching philosophy.
3. Expectations he/she has for all athletes on the squad as well as your individual child.
4. Team requirements, i.e. fees, special equipment, off-season conditioning, and specific team rules.
5. Procedures should your child be injured during practice or a contest.
6. Discipline procedures that may result in the denial of your child's participation.

Communication coaches expect from parents:

1. Notification of any schedule conflicts well in advance.
2. Specific medical problems that could adversely impact your child's performance or safety.

It is important to understand that there also may be times when things do not go the way you or your child wish. At these times, discussion with the coach is encouraged.

Appropriate concerns to discuss with the athletic director and the coach:

1. The treatment of your child mentally and physically.
2. Specific concerns in regard to a coach's philosophy and/or expectations.
3. Ways to help your child improve.
4. Concerns about your child's behavior.
5. Family concerns that may have an emotional impact upon your child and his or her athletic participation.

It is very difficult to accept your child not playing as much as you may hope. Coaches make judgment decisions based on what they believe to be the best for all the student-athletes involved. As you have seen from the list above, certain things can and should be dis-cussed with your child's coach. Other things, such as the following items, must be left to the discretion of the coach.

Issues not appropriate to discuss with coaches:

Playing time, team strategy, play calling, lineups, substitutions, and other student-athletes on the team.

Unacceptable contact with your child's coach:

1. Prior to and during practice.
2. Prior to, during, or after a contest.

These are typically very busy times or, in the case of a contest, emotional times for all parties involved. Things can and will be said that are not meant. Meetings of this nature do not promote resolution. Accordingly, there are situations that may require a conference between the coach and the parent. As these needs surface, it is important that both parties have a clear understanding of the other's position. When these conferences are necessary, we ask that you contact the Athletic Director first. Though we understand the occasional desire to talk directly with the Coach, Principal, or Superintendent, you will be required to communicate through the Athletic Director first.

What can a parent do if the meeting with the athletic director and coach did not provide a satisfactory resolution?

1. Call and set up a meeting to discuss the situation with the Building Principal (717-957-6000, Option 2 SMS or 3 SHS).
2. At this meeting, the appropriate next step can be determined.

The following procedures should be followed to help promote a resolution:

1. Take 24 hours to reassess the issue. Possibly discuss the situation with a spouse or co-worker to determine an objective analysis of the situation.
2. Call the school to set up an appointment with the Athletic Director and Coach.
3. If the Athletic Director cannot be reached, call the Athletic Department Office Secretary (717-957-6000, Option 3) to help facilitate scheduling the meeting.
